Centrus Announces New Sales Commitments Valued At $225 Million

BETHESDA, Md. – Centrus Energy Corp. (NYSE American: LEU) announced today that it has secured new nuclear fuel sales contracts and commitments valued at approximately $225 million over the past 12 months.

“The last 12 months has been the strongest period for new sales since 2015, with prices rising again and utilities coming back into the market to make multi-year orders,” said Centrus President and CEO Daniel B. Poneman. “With these new sales, we’re adding value into our long-term order book, broadening our customer base, and strengthening our position as a trusted global nuclear fuel supplier.”

Most of Centrus’ revenues come from multi-year contracts with major utilities, often signed years in advance. The new sales contracts and commitments cover deliveries in North America, Asia, and Europe from 2021 through 2027, with revenues to be recognized in the year of delivery. The approximately $225 million total includes the more than $100 million in contracts and commitments secured between November 2020 and the end of January 2021 that were disclosed in the Company’s Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2020.

“We value our longstanding relationships with our utility customers and these new sales agreements will allow us to remain a supplier of choice for our customers nuclear fleets for many years to come,” said Centrus Senior Vice President for Sales and Chief Marketing Officer John M. A. Donelson. “At Centrus, we embrace a customer-first strategy, offering security, diversity and competitive pricing to the global nuclear fuel market.”
